DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 25-38, drawn to a pneumatic tire including a patch for mounting an electronic tag.

Group II, claim(s) 39-48, drawn to an electronic tag.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the special technical feature for the tire and patch combination is not required in the electronic tag and the special technical feature for the electronic tag is not required in the tire and patch combination.

3. During a telephone conversation with Howard Cohn on June 21, 2004 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 25-38. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 39-48 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit 1733

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 25-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims appear to be requiring the pneumatic tire in combination with the patch, however throughout the claims there is confusing language appearing to require only the patch. For example, in claim 1 line 4 applicants recite a patch having a first side "for mounting" against the innerliner of the tire instead of -- mounted -- against the innerliner. Also, claims 26-28, 35, 36, and 38 do not appear to further limit the tire and patch structure of claim 1 (these claims only describe features of the intended electronic tag and do not appear to require any further structure in the claimed tire and patch assembly).

Double Patenting

7. Applicants are urged to maintain a clear line of demarcation between the claims in this application and the claims in Phelan et al. (6,255,940 B1) and Phelan et al. (6,624,748 B1) having a common inventor with this application in order to avoid any potential double patenting issues.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

9. Claims 25-29 and 34-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Koch et al. (6,030,478).

See the embodiment of Figures 2 and 8: vulcanized rubber patch 120 with arcuate sides bridging the tag-receiving side and the side mounted against the innerliner of the pneumatic tire, tag-receiving side including housing (nut) 124 with internal threads 122 for receiving tag assembly 110. As to claims 26-28, 35, 36, and 38, see paragraph 6 above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

12. Claims 30-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Koch et al. (6,030,478) in view of DE 37 05 617 A1 and EP 0 389 406 A2.

See paragraph 9 above: the claimed positioning of the patch along the innerliner appears to be conventional in the art according to the parameters desired to be sensed by the electronic tag, as evidenced by DE '617 and EP '406 for example (see the international preliminary examination report for this application). It would therefore have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide such conventional positioning of the patch in the Koch et al. tire and patch assembly.
